Durban Poison strains are the original African strain, from the Rift Valley. This makes them a really good outdoor marijuana strain. It is a great marijuana plant for hot temperatures. Durban Poison is a tight bud Sativa with a candy smell and an UP high. It is one of the most reliable early outdoor varieties, and will produce chunky, solid buds, even during the worst of seasons. It is one of the easiest to grow, highest quality early varieties in the world...WOW....sounds easy hey! Flowering period is 8 weeks, Harvest at the end of September

Why is it suggested to pinch out the new growing tips of plants?

When any plant is growing, you can pinch out the new growth tips, this encourages bushiness and more branches, more branches = more tips, more tips = more flower BUDS! Awesome!!!

FREE PIPES!!

Yep, We are still giving away a FREE PIPE per day...get into Krazy to enter...Give away in effect until the end of this month!!

Good to Know...

Tips for talking to your children about marijuana:

Emphasize that cannabis is not like other illegal drugs. Cannabis is non-toxic and addiction is very, very rare if it occurs at all. It has little or no negative health effects except for the irritation from its smoke. That is not true of other drugs, so emphasize that pills and powders are inherently different than plants. That is the simplest line to draw. If you think your child is at risk or already involved with hard drugs, that is a different discussion altogether. But they need to know that all "drugs" are not the same and they have different effects and risks.
